++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cold and windy with frequent showers.

Today:
Frequent showers will merge to give some longer spells of rain at times. Some heavy downpours are likely, with a risk of hail, and some snow is likely over higher ground. Feeling cold in strong and blustery northwesterly winds. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers will gradually ease through Saturday evening, with some long clear spells developing overnight. Turning cold with a touch of frost in sheltered spots by morning. Brisk winds continuing. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Sunday:
Bright or sunny spells and isolated showers on Sunday, with the showers continuing to be wintry over the hill tops. Strong winds at first will slowly ease through the day. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Rain and hill snow at first Monday, but turning brighter later. Risk of gales Tuesday with rain and hill snow followed by showers. Continuing cold, very windy and unsettled Wednesday.
